FLAT STOCK MARKET

BUSINESS SHRINKS, WAITING FOR FINANCIAL DEVELOPMENTS.

Wall Street Believes It Has a Corner on the Gold-Local Markets Continue Steady.

At New York, yesterday, money on call was easy at 5@7 per cent.; last loan, 5; closing, 5 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 6@9 per cent.

Sterling exchange was dull and slow, and with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.88%@4.89 for demand and $4.87%@4.87% for sixty days; posted rates, $1.88@4.89 and $4.89\\@4.90\\; commercial bills, $4.86\\. Silver certificates, 67@671/2c; bar silver, 66%c; Mexican dollars, 52%c. At London bar silver was 30 9-16d per ounce. Total sales of stocks were 168,987 shares, including the following: American Sugar, 26,800; American Tobacco, 7,900; Burlington, 7,600; Louisville & Nashville, 6,800; Manhattan Consolidated, 11,300; Reading, 13,900; St. Paul, 23,000; Tennessee Coal and Iron, 3,700;

United States Leather, 3,000 United States Leather preferred, 35,600. Thursday's stock market is best described as a waiting one. The volume of business underwent a considerable shrinkage, and there was a marked absence of the recent excitement. Prices did not move uniformly, evidencing the fact that stocks were being dealt in subject to special considerations affecting them, rather than on any general dominating influence, such as the war talk or the treasury situation. At the same time easy money rates and a weaker tendency in the sterling exchange berries, 2-pound, 70@80c; raspberries, 2-market decreased estimates of the amount of gold to be shipped to Europe were fac-$1.25@1.35; choice, $2@2.50; cove oysters, 1tors in the speculation. The sentiment in the street is almost general on the point that a more or less definite understanding obtains regarding the treasury relief measures between the administration and powerful banking interests. Late in the day rumors were current that pressure was being brought to bear on the President and Secretary Carlisle to have the interval of time for subscriptions named in the bond call abridged. The first batch of blank application forms for subscriptions to the new bonds was received at the New York subtreasury and was quickly exhausted. Requests for an additional supply of blanks were forwarded to Washington. For obvious reasons definite information regarding the extent of subscriptions is not obtainable. Almost without exception, however, Wall-street men believe that inability on the part of the public to secure gold to pay for any considerable proportion of the $100,000,000 issue of bonds will compel the treasury officials to avail themselves of the syndicate's assistance. It is also generally held that this assistance will be promptly forthcoming if required. Some significance is attached, in this connection, to the expressed belief at Washington that exports of gold in the interval before the closing of the government loan will not exceed about one-sixth of the free gold now held by the treasury. Gold as a commodity is still dealt in at a premium of about onehalf of 1 per cent. Share prices showed material gains in many instances, particularly in Sugar, Tobacco, the Vanderbilts, Coalers, General Electric, Rubber and Leads. The movement was somewhat ir-regular. Manhattan and Leather preferred were sharply depressed. The first named was unfavorably affected by rumors of impending increased taxation and the last by uncoufirmed reports that the company was endeavoring to secure a two-million-dollar loan, and persistent rumors that the dividend to be considered early next week will be passed. Manhattan at first improved 1 per cent., to 981/2, but sold off to 963/8, with a subsequent rally to 97. President Gould was interviewed in regard to the company's condition, and stated that the bear reports were entirely unfounded. Leather preferred dropped 4 per cent., to 561/2, but rallied with the general list late in the day. It closed, however, at a net loss of 3 points. Metropolitan Traction, on purchases of only 1,000 shares, rose 5%, to 99%. The advance was attributed to repurchases by investors. The closing was dull and irregular, but at general net gains, which, in some instances, The bond market displayed irregularity during the greater part of the day on a decreased volume of business. In the late trading, however, prices generally moved upward under the leadership of the Northern Pacific issues, the thirds rising 5 per cent., to 69, Dealings were inaugurated in the trust receipts for Union Pacific sixes of 1896, at 951/4 and 961/4, respectively. The dealings in government bonds aggregated only $3,000. The market was feature less, aside from the new fours, which advanced 14 per cent, on the first call, but subsequently receded to Wednesday's closing. In State issues $2,000 Alabamas were of Evangelist Ostrom's Thoughts Expressed Last Night.

The usual services were held yesterday and last night at the Roberts Park revival, being conducted by the Rev. Henry F. Ostrom, the evangelist, and Mr. Crowell, the singer. The interest in these meetings continues to grow, and the large church is crowded at every service. Last evening he took for a text, "Instead of the thorn there the briar shall come up the myrtle tree." These words are found in the very same chapter of Isaiah which says, "Let the American indigo, be; Arnold LLC, 10; Cocheco fancy, 5½c; Cocheco madders, 4½c;

have the myrtle put in. "There are people who say that age will You hear about time-savers, but these are time-saviors. Now, we surely need a great blessing of respect for old age all over America, and I want to raise my hat to every man or woman with gray hairs. And while this is all so, an old sinner is the worst kind of a sinner in the world. He knows more tricks, and he is slyer about them, and his hand is more deft. An old thorn is a very tough thorn, an old briar will make a deep wound. You cannot make a thorn tree bear apples by letting it grow old. There must be a change of nature. "Other people say that what they need is change of circumstances. A word which is being commonly used to-day is 'environ-They say that if they could only change their environment they would be good. There is no doubt that our surroundings have a great deal of influence upon us. I used to know an old man who would get up in meetings and say that he wanted to go to Boston to get sanctified. He lived on a farm at the edge of town, and he read the Bible while his wife milked the cows, but he always wanted to go to Boston to get sanctifled. Now, you know he might better have gone to his cow stable to get sanctified. My brother, it is not so much a change of surroundings you need as a change of nature. You say, 'If I was as rich as my neighbor, I would take the poor out for carriage drives and scatter sunshine all along the way.' The probability is, my brother, that you would be stingier than you are Some women say, 'If I just had the home Mrs. A. has I would have weekly suppers for the weakly and the downcast." hope you would. But the probability is that you would not always be ready to answer at the door bell, just like lots of other copie. DISQUIETING RUMORS FROM ABROAD KEPT THE CEREAL HIGHER.

Corn and Oats Were Firm and Closed About Unchanged-Provisions Made Gains.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 .- The European political situation kept wheat nervous all day, prices fluctuating frequently, and finally closing 1/3c higher than yesterday. Corn and oats were less skittish, and closed about unchanged. Pork gained 121/2c, lard .10c and ribs .071/2c. Wheat acted strong for a half hour after the opening because of an underlying fear that anything in the way of a sudden jump was possible in the present state of European politics. The war news in the morning papers and lower consols had a strengthening effect early, and there was covering by local shorts and some outside buying orders, with limited offerings. During the first half hour May sold up to 60½

@60%c, split, or nearly a half cent higher than it closed yesterday. But the later cables reported wheat lower in Liverpool, the DETROIT, Jan. 9.—Wheat—No. 1 white, 67½c; No. 2 red, 66½c; May, 68%c; July, 65%c. Corn—No. 2, 29½c. Oats—No. 2 white, 22c; No. 2 mixed, 20c. Rye—No. 2, 37½c. Clover seed, $4.37. Receipts—Wheat, 2,900 clearances were only moderate and the Northwestern deliveries were liberal. There were also indications of large gold exports, the general financial outlook was far from encouraging, and the market became heavy with many of the early buyers turning sellers. There was an irregular decline of nearly 1c from the price early, but a good recovery followed. The fact that wheat was off in Liverpool as well as consols led to the conclusion that other influences than war were in operation, for if war were re-garded as probable wheat would most un-doubtedly be higher. May wheat, after selling off irregular to 59%c, was back to 60%c at noon. The late cables showed that consols had recovered all the decline, but yet there was more or less sensational war news in circulation, and under this influence May closed steady at 60½@60%c.

Corn ruled quiet and easier; trade was less active and narrower, there was good realizing and not so much covering by shorts. The fluctuations in wheat and the financial situation also had some influence May sold early up to 2914@29%c, split, weak-ened to 28%c, and at noon was about 29c. The market held firm and steady during the last hour, and May closed at 291/80 Oats were slow, and most of the time a shade easier; May sold from 19%c to 19%c closing easy at 19%c. Less covering by local shorts and increased offerings by country houses were the features. Provisions were active and strong. Trading was heavy at times and in large parcels. Half millions of ribs and thousandtierce lots of lard were not infrequent, and one operator remarked that he had not seen so large a business in provisions for six months. After a moderate set back from the effect of realizing sales of long stuff the orders to buy again overtopped the selling orders, and the market ruled strong thereafter to the end. Closing prices show gains of 121/20 in May pork and lard and .07%c in ribs.

Metals. CLEVELAND, Jan. 9 .- The Iron Trade Review this week will say: A reduction of the make of pig iron, everywhere conceded to be necessary to an improvement in price, is already in progress. In the past ten days eight furnaces in the Shenango valley have either been blown out or banked-one in the Mahoning valley, one at Pittsburg, two furnaces of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company, and one of the Sloss Iron and Steel Company. The weekly ouput of iron is now fully 15,000 tons less than the rate in the last week in December, and furnaces to be put idle in the coming week will work a further reduction. Labor troubles in some, two-dollar coke in other cases and in still others the unwillingness to pile iron and add to the already heavy accumulation of metal account for the restrictive movement which will help to restore an equilibrium between furnace output and that of mills, foundries and steel works. The past week, so far as prices and sales go, has not differed from its predecessors. Buyers are holding off. The few who place contracts are getting concessions from quotations, and for the time being every producer is a law to himself in the

ON TECHNICAL POINTS

SUPREME COURT REVERSES CELE-BRATED EEL RIVER CASE.

Question of State's Right to Annul the Railroad Company's Charter Not Touched.

The long-looked-for decision in the case of the State against the Eel River Railroad Company, which was an effort to declare | tion resides is the only court which could the charter of the company void because it sold out to a competing company, was handed down by the Supreme Court yesterday It is a great disappointment to those who have looked forward to a decision on the points involved, for not one is touched by the court. The case was reversed on legal technicalities.

The question of the right of the State to annul the charter of the defendant company still remains open. The court finds that the lower court had no jurisdiction over the person of the defendant company, although it holds that the court acquired jurisdiction over the matter at issue by the failure of the defendant to demur to the complaint for reason of lack of juridiction. This provided the process had been good. In regard to the lack of jurisdiction over the person of the defendant the court says:

"The proof of service of summons on the Eel River Railroad Company was not sufficient under this section (Sec. 319, R. S., 1881, providing for service on nonresidents), for the reason that it was not shown that said company is a nonresident of the State. It is true that the information alleged that the Eel River company had no officer or agent within the State upon whom service could be had, but the information was not verified, and if such facts would have sustained the service of summons on the Eel River compnay in this case under Section 319 no proof thereof was made.'

It was also claimed by the State that the act of Dec. 21, 1858, is still in force, although not contained in the Revised Statutes of 1881. The court could not find any act repealing it. This act provides for service on home corporations whose officers live outside the State. The court says: "The proof of service of process was not sufficient under its provisions for the reason that there was no return by the sheriff that the Eel River company had no officer or person authorized to transact its business residing within the county where such corporation has been located or has exercised its powers upon whom process can be served, as required by said act."

The Cass Circuit Court is instructed to sustain the motion of the company concerning the process. The opinion was written by Judge Monks and was concurred in by all the other judges. Judge Howard wrote a concurrent opinion, in which he calls the attention of the State's attorney the fact that nowhere in the formation is it alleged that the Wabash and Eel River roads are competing lines. This is the case in which General Harrison appeared for the State in the oral argument before the Supreme Court. The original suit was brought in Cass couny in the name of the State by ex-Judge Morris Winfield and D. D. Dykeman. A large amount of money has been spent in court costs and attorney's fee, and now the

Her Husband Dared Her-Now Sues

Him for Divorce. Mrs. Daisy Ensley, a young married woman, who distinguished herself by jumping from the Washington-street bridge into White river last fall, has sued her husband for divorce. In her complaint she charges the defendant with being responsible for her rash act. Her maiden name was Daisy Davidson. She says she was married to Edward Ensley Nov. 5, 1894, and on account of his brutal treatment has been very unhappy. She alleges that the defendant struck her, and was arrested and fined for the assault in Police Court. As a result of his unkind treatment she avers she very weak and nervous last fall. While in this condition her husband dared her to jump into the river, and volunteered to accompany her to the bridge. She accepted the proposition, she says, and did jump from the Washington-street bridge into the river below. After she had been rescued and brought to the bank, she says, the de-fendant coolly denied having ever known her. She further charges the defendant with unfaithfulness, and says he was guilty of misconduct with one Flossie Beckett or Flossie Dean. She prays the court to grant her the decree of divorce, together with $5,000 alimony and the restoration of her

Edward H. Kiefer Sues the Road for Services as Its Excursion Agent. Edward H. Kiefer began an action yesterday against the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railroad to enforce the terms of an alleged contract made May 30, 1895. The plaintiff says he contracted with General Passenger Agent Reed, of the Monon, to superintend two excursions-from Westfield and Greencastle-to Michigan City, during the month of July. The plaintiff says he was to receive 15 per cent. of the gross receipts. He avers that he carried out his part of the contract, but says the railroad company failed to come to time. His share of the receipts amounted to $465, which sum, he says, he has never received. He demands judgment for $500.

EHRISMAN MARRIAGE VALID.

Judge Harvey Decides in Favor of the Insane Miller's Wife.

Judge Harvey, of the Superior Court, has decided for the defendant in the case of Samuel Ehrisman against Mai Ehrisman. The sult was to set aside an alleged fraudilent marriage contract. The evidence showed that the couple agreed to a common law marriage thirteen years ago, and that during this period their friends and relatives visited them and considered them man and wife. The ceremony at Greensburg, a year ago, the court held, was valid enough, even if the plaintiff was of un-sound mind. It simply ratified the agree-ment entered into by the couple years be-

Louise Muhleman, in a suit for divorce from Gottlieb Gottfried Muhleman, sets up specific allegations of cruelty. The Muhlemans live in North Indianapolis. They separated Sept. 30, 1894. Mrs. Muhleman says her husband struck her with a buggy whip a the preceding Christmas cursed her brutally. She says that the defendant yet occupies a room on the upper floor of their home and is compelled to pass through her apartment to get to his room. She shows that the is in mortal fear of him and believes that her personal safety requires that he be restrained from entering her house.

An Improvement Bond Suit. The St. Joseph Savings Bank has brought suit against Robert B. F. Peirce and Alice M. Peirce to enforce the collection of improvement bonds issued to the defendants and which came into possession of the bank. The bonds are to secure an assessment on the Georgia-street sewer. The plaintiffs allege that payment was defaulted they claim the bonds are due. Judgment for $153 is asked in addition to attorneys The Kitchen Floor Gave Way. Martha J. Stewart wants $5,000 damages from J. Graham, who owns the house which she occupies at No. 163 Elizabeth street. Jan. 8, 1895, while working in her kitchen the floor gave way and she suffered the fracture of an ankle. The will of John W. Gilbert was probated yesterday in the Circuit Court. To Amelia L. Gilbert, wife of the testator, is bequeathed his residence and household goods at No. 1037 North Meridian street. #### THE COURT RECORD.

Supreme Court. 17340, Railroad Company vs. State ex rel. Kistler. Fulton C. C. Reversed. Monks,

J.-1. In the absence of statutory provisions corporations are subject to suit for charter forfeiture and dissolution only in the county in which they reside; that is where the stockholders annually meet and the principal office is maintained. And if the information does not show the county in which the corporation holds its office such proceeding will not be coram non judice and the process a nullity. 2. The defendant may demur to the complaint when it ap-pears upon the face thereof that the court has no jurisdiction of the person of the defendant or the subject of the action, or the objection may be taken by answer, but if no such objection is taken either by demurrer or answer the defendant shall be deemed to have waived the same except only the objection to the jurisdiction of the court over the subject of the action and except the objection that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause for action. Provided, however, that the objection that the action was brought in the wrong county if not taken by answer or demurrer shall be deemed to have been walved. 3. If the Circuit Court of the county in which the corporatake jurisdiction of the subject of the action against it such fact need not be alleged in the information. 4. The facts which give jurisdiction of the subject of the action need not affirmatively appear on the face of the complaint. 5. A demurrer for want of jurisdiction will only lie when the defect appears upon the face of the complaint. 6. Where the court is in law competent and without the faculty to deal with the subject matter before it, its proceedings and judgment without regard to any question of walver or consent of the parties would be coram non judice. In such a case the want of jurisdiction would necessarily appear on the face of the com-plaint and objection might be taken by demurrer or motion to dismiss. 7. Where facts exist that would deprive the court of jurisdiction or arrest the proceedings for the time being, the complaint being silent in that regard, objection cannot be taken by demurrer, but the facts must be brought forward by answer or plea. 8. A sum-mons from the Circuit Court can only be served in this State by the sheriff or by some one authorized by him for that pur-pose. 9. An unofficial person may serve a summons without the State when such service is authorized by statute. 10. Proof of summons out of the State in order to be sufficient it must also be shown that the defendant was a nonresident of the State. 11. When it appears that there is no officer or person to transact the business of the company such facts should appear from the sheriff's return.
